

SOLAKONFERANSEN

— Aviation Safety
Since 1987

Solakonferansen Safety Award 2022

awarded to

CHC

This year's safety award goes to an organisation. The company in question began as a humble crop-dusting business in British Columbia and it has become a world-leading aviation services provider. It is clear, that through its 75 years in operation, the company has brought significant value to the offshore helicopter community by being a leader in the development of world leading safety standards in Norway and across the globe.

This organizations dedication has paved the way within the safety domain and has become a leading star for promoting safe helicopter operations in all aspects of their services. In hangars, on the ground, in offices and cockpits it's easy to recognise that safety is at their core.

Providing safe and efficient operations has always been their main focus and inspiring competitors, manufacturers, regulators as well as customers to go further, do more and come home safely.

They have been a prominent initiator of HeliOffshore and for years they have hosted their own Safety Summit based on the idea of sharing and collaborating across the industry to enhance flight safety.

We are certain that the winner of the 2022 Solakonferansen Safety award will continue to be at the forefront of the industry in developing safety systems and strengthening the industries safety culture, exploring helicopter types and technologies in years to come.

The board of Stiftelsen Solakonferansen is pleased to award the Solakonferansen Safety Award 2022 to CHC.

Sola, 20 September 2022.

Øivind Solberg
Chairman of the Board
Stiftelsen Solakonferansen